

DANIEL NEWBURG

A Style-ish art opening

★★★★

Gossip monger Couri Hay's friend Colette spent yesterday dismantling her extraordinary show of fanciful lightbox installations at the Daniel Newburg Gallery. Colette, who in the 1970s drew outlines on the city's streets and slept in them until she was arrested, has been living in Germany. She recently returned to New York with a bash at Area. She was last sighted at the Palladium watching Pia Zadora sing "Maybe This Time."

★★★★

RICHARD CORKERY/Daily News

COLETTE:
Coming in from the cold.

New York Daily News
January, 1986.

44 WHITE STREET
NEW YORK 10013

219-1885